A Word From Our Chapter Director

by Greg and Dee Eames, CD

Time MARCHes on.

Here we are already into March. We are looking forward to a great riding season this year but we need to get past March first. Some of the biggest snowstorms that I can remember happened in March. Hopefully, with the lack of snow we've had this year we can have an easy March.

Greg and Dee Eames, CD

The 2012 summer ride schedule is in the final editing stage at this point. We had a very productive ride planning meeting on the 18th of February and hammered out the schedule for the summer. Bob Lucey did an excellent job of putting together an outline and we changed a few, added a few and assigned leaders to all of the rides from May to the end of October. There will be some open spots on the schedule that you are encouraged to use to plan some rides and destinations that you would like to go to. If you would like any help planning a trip, contact Bob Lucey or myself and we would be glad to help. Please note that our annual trip to the Mapletree Inn in Angelica is scheduled for Saturday March 31st. We will be meeting there at 10:30AM. The plan is to travel to Arkport Cycles from there to visit one of our sponsoring dealers.

A note from our ACD

by Larry Helber, ACD

I was going through some photos for the new website and came across one we took last year when a group of us stopped by one of the locks on the Erie Canal. I remembered it was a sunny day in early April. The photo says March 10th. For most of us it was our first ride of the season. We had gone to breakfast at the Maple Tree Inn. We all had our red shirts on and it was just too nice of a day not to ride. Feeling a little guilty about riding instead of doing some spring cleaning I was preparing to head back home before day light was completely gone when Greg asked me to stick around because he wanted to talk to me about something. Fortunately for him I was not in the mood for yard work.

Larry Helber,

A few months earlier Greg called and wanted to "talk". He knew I had a background in computers and he felt that qualified me to help Al with the newsletter. Al used a computer to create the newsletter it made sense a computer geek would be a good person to assist. I tried to explain to him that English was the only class that I didn't pass, almost twice! Being a math and computer science person I could write the program to make the newsletter but was not qualified to help with the content. His response was "Al just needs help finding articles and you can get them from other chapter's newsletters". I wanted to get involved with my new family so I agreed, apprehensively.

I have the pleasure of announcing the grand opening of the new face of NY chapter W. With Larry Helber as the new webmaster we now have a brand new website! Larry has been working diligently this winter to put it together and it was put up on Tuesday 2/21. Even though there are more items to be added, the basic information is there and available. It is still posted under the same address WWW.GWRRA-NYW.ORG. You are welcome to use the website as a reference. There are links to national, regional, and district websites. There is also a link to the GWRRA message boards. There will also be links to all our sponsors and I encourage you to patronize them. I would also like to again thank Al Skiles for all the work he put into the past website.

One last reminder. Don't forget training day on the 17th in Batavia. Our educators have been working hard to put this together and it should be a good learning and socializing experience.

I spent a couple of months reading newsletters from all over the country and discovered that many of them contained some nice safety articles and the rest was columns about what they did or are going to do. Jim is doing a great job as our Ride Safety Educator so I didn't want to compete with him so that left "the other articles" to wade through to try and find something that our chapter members would be interested in reading. It didn't take long for me to learn that we are very fortunate Chapter with a quality newsletter. I want to thank everyone who contributes. It became apparent it would be a lot quicker to write my own articles than it would be to surf for them.

Drawing on the habits learned in my remedial English class from my freshman year in college, I started to write what you (hopefully) have been reading for the past year. Judging by the occasional comments, a few of you have been. It didn't take too long before I started to enjoy writing these articles and often would think of new article ideas while riding. It became a pleasant extension of my riding hobby. This happened because Greg asked for some help and although it was not something I really

How Are You Starting This Riding Season?

by Jim Pearson, Chapter Educator

Winter is almost gone, so let the riding season begin! Maybe you have recently taken a CPR/First Aid class or a seminar or two during this past off-season, or plan to in the near term. This means you will be better prepared to help in case one of your riding buddies has an accident or a health issue, or you are prepared to be a better co-rider. Now you are available to spend more time riding now that the season is here. Hopefully you have also taken time to make sure your motorcycle is ready to go, too. You may have done a T-CLOCS, or changed the oil, replaced worn tires, kept your battery charged, or discovered that you needed a new one and replaced it.

Jim Pearson
Rider Educator

There are other things that you can do to be at your best out on the road, too. Many of us will be out on the road before MSF or GWRRA Rider Courses are offered. So what else can you do to get in the right frame of mind and tune up your skills right away? There are a few things you can do as an individual or in a group (such as with your fellow chapter members) to be prepared to ride safely and with skill before the season is even two weeks old.

First, you can practice your skills in an empty, quiet parking lot with smooth pavement that is free of loose gravel or sand. Find an empty church or a school parking lot, or some unused out-of-the-way space at a shopping center safely away from moving vehicles. Choose a time when it is unlikely to be busy, (e.g., a school lot on Sunday) as your safety is of the utmost importance. Work on braking, turning, curves, stopping while in a curve (remember to straighten the handlebars before braking!), and turning when pulling away from a stop. When you practice alone, always remain vigilant to vehicles encroaching on your space.

Second, how about participating in a Parking Lot Practice? Also referred to as a PLP, this is an activity that many Chapters hold at the chapter level. The exercises in a PLP are all spelled out in the Cornering Practice Guide along with tips to execute the skills correctly. Talk to your Chapter Educator about holding a Parking Lot Practice for your chapter, or if there is a Facilitated Parking Lot Practice scheduled near you.

Third, you can attend a Team Riding Seminar. This Rider Ed seminar is available for presentation at your chapter, and may be available at some District rallies. This seminar is particularly good to hold at your chapter because the folks who are normally part of your riding team can all hear the same Team Riding tips. Why would you sit through a Team Riding Seminar? One reason is because most of us ride to various places around the state with our riding friends. And if you know what to expect from the others in your group – your team – you will be more likely to trust them. You will trust them because you'll know they are all going to ride safely and predictably in a staggered formation. That is what the Team Riding Seminar provides you.

Getting back to the bike for a minute, if you have new tires on your bike for the new season, know that the tire manufacturers recommend that you take it easy on those tires for the first 50 – 100 miles. That means go easy in the curves and easy on acceleration to prevent slide-outs. The reason is because the surface of the tire will be slickest (slippery) when new. There are a couple of common explanations why, but the result is the same – reduced traction. The rubber will get scuffed and roughed up enough over that distance during normal riding and the tire's grip will improve. Be particularly careful with new tires on painted stripes and metal plates, and all surfaces that are slick even when your tires aren't.

Remember that practice in a parking lot, by yourself or with others, is good for all of us after the long off-season. It is even more beneficial and important if you recently bought a new or used motorcycle. Get to know that new-to-you bike and how it handles in a safe environment. After brushing up your skills, you'll be ready to go out and enjoy a safe riding season!

Website Updated

by Larry Helber, Webmaster

If it has been a while since you visited our website I encourage you to take another look. In case you don't remember the website can be viewed at <http://gwrra-nyw.org>. The website is a work in progress and you will see more information and updates and features added as the works progresses. Take another look at it and let not as good as I would like them to be. Joining forces seemed like a beneficial opportunity for both. I would teach her the programming side and she would help me with the artistic features. The website you see is the result of our team effort. I hope you enjoy using it as much as we have enjoyed building it.

Larry Helber know what you think. It is your website and we welcome all comments.

This latest incarnation is a product of two people coming from different backgrounds who worked together to produce a fresh new look. Kathy Wallach is a graphic artist who has worked over 20 years in graphic design. Her primary background is with print media like advertisements, packaging and newsletters. She had lent her graphics skills to upgrade some other websites but was looking forward to learning more about the nuts and bolts of building websites. She was interested in expanding her portfolio to include website design. As a software developer I had built and managed many websites but my strongest skills are programming the pages that allow the websites to work the way they do. My artistic talents are

One of the fanciest new features is the new calendar. When you click on the Schedule menu you are taken to a Google Calendar that contains most of the events that we have scheduled. The buttons on the upper left allow you to change the date ranges you view while the buttons on the right allow you to print out the calendar or change from a monthly to weekly view. The Agenda tab will present you with a list of all of our scheduled events. Clicking on any event will show you more detail about it and provide you with a link to a map to the destination. A very nice feature when you're planning on attending a dinner ride on an unfamiliar side of town. If you already use Gmail or Calendar you can easily add the events to those calendars. Even better, if you have a smart phone setup with your gmail account then the calendar will automatically be downloaded to it so you will always have the current ride schedule with you.

We are also in the process of updating the Active participant's list, both on the website and to update the roster that is handed out in the spring. If you have a favorite photo of yourself(s) please forward it to me. Vacation photos are great especially if they are on your motorcycle. We still have more planned for the website. If you have a feature you would like to see now is a good time to let us know and we will see if we can add it.

wanted to do, I did it because there was a need and was willing to help. Today I am glad I did because it keeps adding more enjoyment to my hobby. Thanks for the vote of confidence and encouragement Greg.

Back at Greg's house after visiting the Lock, I was thinking he must want to talk about the maintenance work we were planning on doing on my Wing but became suspicious when he rolled out a couple of chairs instead of the tools. It didn't take him long before the real topic came out; he was still looking for an ACD and wanted to know if I would be willing to step forward. The only condition was I still had to continue providing articles for AI, darn! Being a newer member of the chapter I was really not expecting it and had to think about it for a little bit. I had some personal and health issues I was coping with at the time and wasn't sure how they would affect my responsibilities. Greg assured me it wouldn't be a problem.

So here I am one year as your ACD and I have been really enjoying it. I liked having my own little passport stamp. It gave me the opportunity to get to know many of you while we marked off another event you attended. I have learned a lot about how GWRRRA works and how it keeps on working for over 35 years. The job encouraged me to attend several district meetings and events where I made many new friends outside our chapter. I look forward to reuniting with them each time I travel to another GWRRRA activity. I hope you have enjoyed having me as your ACD, I know I am looking forward to serving you for another year in both positions.

The Green Thing

In the line at the store, the cashier told an older woman that she should bring her own grocery bags because plastic bags weren't good for the environment. The woman apologized to him and explained, "We didn't have the green thing back in my day." The clerk responded, "That's our problem today. Your generation did not care enough to save our environment." He was right — our generation didn't have the green thing in its day. Back then, we returned milk bottles, soda bottles and beer bottles to the store. The store sent them back to the plant to be washed and sterilized and refilled, so it could use the same bottles over and over. So they really were recycled. But we didn't have the green thing back in our day. We walked up stairs, because we didn't have an escalator in every store and office building. We walked to the grocery store and didn't climb into a 300-horsepower machine every time we had to go two blocks. But she was right. We didn't have the green thing in our day. Back then, we washed the baby's diapers because we didn't have the throw-away kind. We dried clothes on a line, not in an energy gobbling machine burning up 220 volts — wind and solar power really did dry the clothes. Kids got hand-me-down clothes from their brothers or sisters, not always brand-new clothing. But that old lady is right; we didn't have the green thing back in our day. Back then, we had one TV, or radio, in the house — not a TV in every room. And the TV had a small screen the size of a handkerchief (remember them?), not a screen the size of the state of Montana. In the kitchen, we blended and stirred by hand because we didn't have electric machines to do everything for us. When we packaged a fragile item to send in the mail, we used a wadded up old newspaper to cushion it, not Styrofoam or plastic bubble wrap. Back then, we didn't fire up an engine and burn gasoline just to cut the lawn. We used a push mower that ran on human power. We exercised by working so we didn't need to go to a health club to run on treadmills that operate on electricity. But she's right; we didn't have the green thing back then.. We drank from a fountain when we were thirsty instead of using a cup or a plastic bottle every time we had a drink of water. We refilled writing pens with ink instead of buying a new pen, and we replaced the razor blades in a razor instead of throwing away the whole razor just because the blade got dull. But we didn't have the green thing back then. Back then, people took the streetcar or a bus and kids rode their bikes to school or walked instead of turning their moms into a 24-hour taxi service. We had one electrical outlet in a room, not an entire bank of sockets to power a dozen appliances. And we didn't need a computerized gadget to receive a signal beamed from satellites 2,000 miles out in space in order to find the nearest pizza joint. But isn't it sad the current generation laments how wasteful we old folks were just because we didn't have the green thing back then?
